

Tea Time Treats

January 2016

■ Synopsis:

For breakfast or for tea-time, tea is currently very fashionable. Often synonymous with detox, health, balance and pleasure, many different tastes are available: soft, fruity, scented, spicy, minty, etc. This elegant beverage is affordable to all budgets.

Juliette Lalbatry invites readers to an initiatory journey throughout tea categories, and offers her delicious recipes for tea-time. She also suggests lovely ideas of gifts from the kitchen, to accompany tea.

■ The Author:

This is Juliette Lalbatry's very first book. She is a young epicurean woman of 25 year-old, passionate about cooking. She shares her recipes on her blog « Les Papilles de Juliette ». She likes to create simple and delicious recipes, that are also good to look at.
