

Marie & Claire – Nutrition

February 2018

Synopsis:

Marie and Claire are spending a few days in their grand-parents' house. They live in a farm in the middle of the countryside. They cultivate bio fruits and vegetables, and have a henhouse, rabbits, and goats. The sisters discover with great pleasure the amazing taste of their own natural harvest. And on the second day, everybody is going to the market to sell the products from the farm. This stay at the farm is a good opportunity to speak about how important it is to buy good products and to help local producers.

In this picture book, we follow the sisters in their apprenticeship of a good and balanced diet, favouring products of quality.

The book also contains a page of presentation of the characters and 4 pages of advises by a psychologist, to help parents discuss of this issue with their children from 5 to 7 year-old.

The Author:

Céline Potard used to work as a publisher, but she is now an author specialised in children books. She works for different publishing houses: picture books and activity books with Auzou, animal books with Lito, game boxes with Bayard and documentaries with La Martinière.

The Illustrator:

Bénédicte Voile works as a graphic designer and an illustrator. She mainly works in the press field, both for adults and children, with magazine such as Disney Girl. In the book publishing field, she works with Hachette and Solar. Her style is modern and original. She loves giving life to her characters!
